6 ITEMS TO BE CONSIDERED FOR PROVISIONAL ENTRY ON THE SA HERITAGE REGISTER

6.1 Former Jenkins Street Slips Precinct, Kaurana Country, Birkenhead

It was noted that Mr Rolfe and Mrs Lindsay departed the meeting at this point due to declaring a conflict of interest in this matter.

Ms Verschoor welcomed the people observing in the public gallery and asked Mr Chris Burns, Heritage SA to introduce the matter.

On 8 May 2023, a member of the public nominated the Port Adelaide Sailing Club and Surrounds, Jenkins Street, New Port for listing as a State Heritage Place in the South Australian Heritage Register as they believe it meets all criteria under s16 criteria of the Heritage Places Act 1993.

Mr Burns noted that Heritage SA undertook a full site visit of the nominated place on 7 July 2023. The Heritage Assessment Report recommends that only the Jenkins Street Slips Precinct meets section 16 criterion (c), while the Port Adelaide Sailing Club building is considered not to meet any of the section 16 criteria.

The Boatyards Precinct and Sailing Club was previously assessed in 2008 and found not to meet the criteria. The nomination has provided new information and this has led to the precinct being assessed again.

The entire parcel from Birkenhead Bridge to Fletcher's slip south of Jenkins Street is considered to have high archaeological potential. Therefore the Jenkins Street Slips Precinct is recommended as meeting criterion (c) for its archaeological potential.

The slipways and existing above ground structures and objects associated with shipyards are considered to be part of the archaeological assemblage of the site and are included in the elements of significance.

The former Port Adelaide Sailing Club premises is not recommended to meet any of the criteria for reasons outlined in the assessment report and is therefore excluded from the extent of listing.

Mr Burns indicated that the northern side of the Gawler Reach of the Port River has been associated with ship-building since the 1840s and the slips Precinct was used intensively for this purpose from the early 1860s. Relatively little is known about nineteenth and early twentieth century ship-building.

Most of what we know about nineteenth and early twentieth century ship-building comes from the archaeological study of shipwrecks. Little is known about the process of ship-building as there have been very few detailed archaeological investigations of ship-building sites in South Australia. This is also true internationally.

There are two parallel processes that have occurred over many decades in the Jenkins Street Slips Precinct. The first is the deposition of rubbish essentially, associated with private shipwright businesses over many, many decades. The second is the building up of the river bank over many decades with spoil from the Port River.

The ground is relatively undisturbed so it is expected the precinct will have excellent archaeological potential.

Council heard that it is one of only a few places in South Australia that is likely to yield detailed information on nineteenth century ship-building through archaeological investigation.

In its deliberations Council discussed the criteria for listing under section 16 of the Heritage Places Act 1993. The following is a summary of the discussion:

- It was noted the Sailing Club was built in 1908 and then moved in 1925. Over years it has progressively been changed and modified. Mr Burns noted that when considering it as a “class of place” (a sporting club) it has evolved as a club rather than being purpose built.
- It was noted that the first members of the club were all men of the middle class and therefore its origins were not working-class.
- Women were excluded from full membership of the Sailing Club until the 1980’s.
- Council discussed sailing clubs as a class of sporting club and noted that they are not significant to South Australia as a class of place.
- Council discussed the distinction between criterion a) and criterion c).
- The sailing club may not have been wealthy and it needed to evolve over time as finances become available.

- Discussed the distinction of above ground and below ground archaeology. Certain there will be artefacts underground.
- Agreed that the structures on surface don't meet criterion a) as they are in ruinous condition.
- Should the place be listed under criterion c), there will be an expectation that the artefacts on the surface would be recorded.
- It was noted that some of the artefacts may be under water or under silt and sand.
- Any disturbance of the land would be managed through the Development Application process. The whole site would be subject to controls while development takes place.

Ms Verschoor asked the Council whether it agreed with the recommendation to provisionally enter the Jenkins Street Slips Precinct under criterion c) and all members indicated they were in favour.

Council agreed with the recommendation that the Port Adelaide Sailing Club building does not meet the threshold for provisional entry.

Ms Verschoor thanked the nominators and all the people that had made the time to attend the meeting to observe proceedings.

RESOLUTIONS:

The South Australian Heritage Council:

- Provisionally entered the Jenkins Street Slips Precinct, Kurna Country, Jenkins Street, New Port (CT 5874/511 A7 D54259 Hundred of Port Adelaide) in the South Australian Heritage Register as a State Heritage Place, as it is deemed to fulfil criterion (c) for State heritage listing under section 16(1) of the Heritage Places Act 1993:
(c) it may yield information that will contribute to an understanding of the State's history, including its natural history
- Approved the Summary of State Heritage Place for the Jenkins Street Slips Precinct, Kurna Country, Jenkins Street, New Port
- Rejected the Port Adelaide Sailing Club as it does not meet any of the criteria.

6.2 Colonel Light Gardens Church of Christ, Kurna Country, 539-541 Goodwood Road, Colonel Light Gardens

Mr Rolfe and Mrs Lindsay returned to the meeting at this point.

Mr Schrapel departed the meeting as he had declared a conflict of interest in relation to this matter.

Ms Verschoor invited Mr Burns to introduce this matter.

Mr Burns noted that an Assessment Report has been prepared for Colonel Light Gardens Church of Christ, 539-541 Goodwood Road, Colonel Light Gardens and recommends that the church does not meet any criteria under s16 of the Heritage Places Act 1993 for listing as a State Heritage Place.

Colonel Light Gardens Church of Christ is not considered to demonstrate features of heritage value to the State Heritage Area.

Mr Burns noted that the Naracoorte Church of Christ assessment is underway and it is more likely to be recommended to meet the criteria.

The Chair thanked Mr Burns for the information provided in the comprehensive assessment report.

Ms Verschoor asked Council if they were in favour of the recommendation to reject the listing. Council members indicated they were unanimous in their agreement to reject the Colonel Light Gardens Church of Christ for heritage listing.

RESOLUTION:

The South Australian Heritage Council:

- Rejected the Colonel Light Gardens Church Of Christ, 539-541 Goodwood Road, Colonel Light Gardens (CT 6036/892 D81201 A1 Hundred of Adelaide), as it does not meet any of the s16 criteria in the Heritage Places Act 1993.

6.3 Nantawarra Silo, 18 Silo Road, Kaurana Country, Nantawarra

It was noted that Mr Schrapel returned to the meeting at this point.

Ms Jade Kanas, Heritage SA, was welcomed to the meeting. Ms Kanas indicated that on 5 May 2023 the South Australian Heritage Council received a public nomination for the Nantawarra Silo, 18 Silo Road, Nantawarra SA. The nominator suggested the Nantawarra Silo meets criteria (a), (c) and (e) of s16 of the Heritage Places Act 1993 for listing as a State Heritage Place in the South Australian Heritage Register.

The nominator indicated that the place is under imminent threat of demolition.

It was noted that the Nantawarra Silo is owned by the Minister for Transport, Infrastructure and Local Government and is leased to Viterra. Following the expiry of their lease agreement with the State Government, Viterra is required to demolish all infrastructure and remediate the land before returning the site. This includes the silo and weighbridge.

Nantawarra residents were notified by letter of the imminent demolition of the Silo on 1 May 2023.

Ms Jade Kanas and Dr Louise Bird undertook a full site visit on 21 June 2023. Due to past site works to increase safety, including welding access doors closed they were unable to access inside of the silo.

Ms Kanas said that the Nantawarra Silo is associated with the industrialisation of South Australia's grain industry through the adoption of bulk handling. Bulk handling revolutionised the State's grain industry by enabling growers to harvest and deliver their grain directly in bulk to local silos, providing cost and time effective storage and transportation of grain to terminals for export, thus ensuring South Australian farmers remained competitive on the world market.

Between 1956 and 1997 the South Australian Co-operative of Bulk Handling constructed an extensive network of approximately 111 upcountry storage sites, including at Nantawarra, and seven port terminals across agricultural areas of the state, with the first upcountry silo, a horizontal shed-type, opening in Paskeville in January 1956.

The integrity and intactness of the Nantawarra Silo has been substantially diminished by alterations to the silo and accompanying structures since the decommissioning of the site in 2004. This includes the filling in of the Silo's receival hopper and the demolition of outbuildings such as the weighbridge and classification offices.

Given the reasons above, the Nantawarra Silo is not considered to meet any of the s16 criteria for listing as a State Heritage Place, and it is recommended that the Council rejects the nomination.

Due to the importance of the implementation of bulk handling methods in South Australia in the second half of the twentieth century, it is proposed that Heritage SA prepares a desktop assessment to determine which, if any, sites are likely to meet any of the s16 criteria and warrant consideration for full assessment. If the desktop assessment is approved, it will be prepared for the Council's consideration at a meeting in 2024.

Ms Verschoor asked Council if they agree with the two recommendations as presented to it. All members were in agreement.

Ms Verschoor thanked Ms Kanas for the comprehensive assessment report.

RESOLUTIONS:

The South Australian Heritage Council:

- REJECTED the nomination of the Nantawarra Silo, 18 Silo Road, Nantawarra (CT 5877/92, A11, D78671, Hundred of Goyder) for entry in the South Australian Heritage Register as a State Heritage Place, as it does not meet any of the criteria for State Heritage listing under section 16 of the Heritage Places Act 1993.
- APPROVED Heritage SA preparing a desktop assessment of bulk handling facilities built in South Australia in the second half of the twentieth century to identify which, if any, places warrant consideration for full assessment.

6.4 St Patrick's Schoolhouse, Karna Country, 268 Grote Street, Adelaide

It was noted that Mr Rolfe and Mrs Lindsay departed the meeting at this point as they had both declared conflicts of interest in relation to this matter.

Dr Thomas Mackay, Heritage SA, was welcomed to the meeting. Dr Mackay gave the following overview of the assessment of the Schoolhouse.

It was noted that on 11 September 1986, Church – St Patrick's 268 Grote Street, Adelaide was confirmed as a State Heritage Place in the South Australian Heritage Register.

St Patrick's Schoolhouse, also known as 'Tragedy Hall', is located on the same land parcel as Church – St Patrick's.

Mr Michael Queale, Principal Heritage Architect, Heritage SA reviewed the existing documentation for Church – St Patrick's and noted that previously, St Patrick's Schoolhouse had been considered as if it were an element of significance for Church- St Patrick's in Development Applications. Mr Queale also noted that the documentation supporting the heritage listing was scant and the schoolhouse or hall was not specifically identified within it. Given this, St Patrick's Schoolhouse was approved for urgent assessment by the South Australian Heritage Council.

Dr Thomas Mackay and Dr Louise Bird of Heritage SA undertook a full site visit on 13 July 2023. The Heritage Assessment Report, prepared by Dr Thomas Mackay, recommends that St Patrick's Schoolhouse meets s16 criteria (a) and (b).

Dr Mackay noted St Patrick's Schoolhouse is one of the State's oldest surviving school buildings and is the oldest bespoke Catholic school building in South Australia. Erected in 1848, St Patrick's Schoolhouse demonstrates the emergence and evolution of schooling in South Australia.

Ms Verschoor asked Council members if they had any questions in relation to the assessment. All Council members were satisfied with the thorough assessment provided by Heritage SA. Ms Verschoor asked whether Council members were in favour of the provisional entry of St Patrick's Schoolhouse under criteria a) and b). Members were unanimous in their approval.

Ms Verschoor noted that the formal three month consultation process will now take place before the Council considers whether or not to confirm the entry in the South Australian Heritage Register.

RESOLUTIONS:

The South Australian Heritage Council:

- Provisionally entered St Patrick's Schoolhouse, 268 Grote Street, Adelaide (CT 5604/216 F181133 A291 Hundred of Adelaide) in the South Australian Heritage Register as a State Heritage Place, as it is deemed to fulfil criteria (a) and (b) for State heritage listing under section 16(1) of the Heritage Places Act 1993:
 - (a) it demonstrates important aspects of the evolution or pattern of the State's history
 - (b) it has rare, uncommon or endangered qualities that are of cultural significance
- Approved the Summary of State Heritage Place for the St Patrick's Schoolhouse, 268 Grote Street, Adelaide

6.5 Great Western Bridge, Barngarla Country, Foreshore, Port Augusta

It was noted that Mr Rolfe and Mrs Lindsay returned to the meeting at this point.

Ms Verschoor invited Dr Louise Bird, Heritage SA to introduce this matter.

Dr Bird noted that on 22 June 2023, Heritage South Australia received a public nomination for the 'Great Western Bridge', Foreshore, Port Augusta. The nominators believe that the 'Great Western Bridge' meets all seven criteria under s16 of the Heritage Places Act 1993 for listing as a State Heritage Place in the South Australian Heritage Register.

The nominators indicated that the place is under imminent threat of demolition.

It was noted that the Great Western Bridge has been identified and considered in two heritage surveys. The first was prepared in 1994-1995 and the second in 2009. The Great Western Bridge was recommended for listing as a Local Heritage Place in both surveys, however neither suggested it warranted consideration for listing as a State Heritage Place.

Dr Bird indicated that the assessment found that the place does not meet any of the section 16 criteria for listing as a State Heritage Place.

Ms Verschoor asked Council if they agree with the two recommendations as presented to it. All members were in agreement.

RESOLUTIONS:

The South Australian Heritage Council:

- Rejected the nomination for State-listing of the Great Western Bridge, Foreshore, Port Augusta (Hundred of Davenport), as it does not meet any of the s16 criteria in the Heritage Places Act 1993.

- Approved writing to the Port Augusta City Council encouraging the preparation of a Local Heritage list.
