

KPP Network Privacy Policy

1. Introduction

1. We are committed to safeguarding the privacy of our network partners and subscribers; in this policy we explain how we will treat your personal information.
2. This policy pertains to the Kangaroo Partnership Project network and subscribers to the KPP newsletter. This does not include the current KPP webpage (<https://www.landscape.sa.gov.au/saal/projects-and-partners/projects/kangaroo-partnership-project>), which is currently managed by the South Australia Arid Lands Landscape Board. See their Privacy Policy here: <https://www.sa.gov.au/privacy>.
3. By being part of the Kangaroo Partnership Project network and agreeing to this policy, you consent to our use of cookies in accordance with the terms of this policy.

2. Collecting personal information

1. We may collect, store and use the following kinds of personal information:
 - (i) information about your computer and about your visits to and use of KPP content including your IP address, geographical location, browser type and version, operating system, referral source, length of visit, page views and website navigation paths.
 - (ii) information that you provide when registering for workshops or events including your name, email, contact number, region, job title, company, sector, and address.
 - (iii) information that you provide to us for the purpose of subscribing to our email notifications and/or newsletters including your name and email address.
 - (iv) information contained in or relating to any communication that you send to us including the communication content and metadata associated with the communication and
 - (v) any other personal information that you choose to send to us.

3. Using personal information

1. Personal information submitted to us through our website or email will be used for the purposes specified in this policy or on the relevant pages of the website.
2. We may use your personal information to:
 - (i) administer our program
 - (ii) send you non-marketing commercial communications
 - (iii) send you email notifications that you have specifically requested
 - (iv) send you our email newsletter, if you have requested it you can inform us at any time if you no longer require the newsletter
 - (v) provide third parties with statistical information about our users but those third parties will not be able to identify any individual user from that information

4. Disclosing personal information

1. We may disclose your personal information to colleagues, collaborators and partner organisations, officers, insurers, professional advisers, agents, or subcontractors insofar as reasonably necessary for the purposes set out in this policy.

2. We may disclose your personal information:

(i) to the extent that we are required to do so by law;

(ii) in connection with any ongoing or prospective legal proceedings;

(iii) in order to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights including providing information to others for the purposes of fraud prevention and reducing credit risk

(iv) to the purchaser or prospective purchaser of any business or asset that we are or are contemplating selling and

(v) to any person who we reasonably believe may apply to a court or other competent authority for disclosure of that personal information where, in our reasonable opinion, such court or authority would be reasonably likely to order disclosure of that personal information.

4. Except as provided in this policy, we will not provide your personal information to third parties.

5. Security of personal information

1. We will take reasonable technical and organisational precautions to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of your personal information.

2. We will store all the personal information you provide on our secure (password- and firewall-protected) servers.

3. You acknowledge that the transmission of information over the internet is inherently insecure, and we cannot guarantee the security of data sent over the internet.

6. Amendments

1. We may update this policy from time to time by publishing a new version on our webpage.

2. You should check this page occasionally to ensure you are happy with any changes to this policy.

3. We may notify you of changes to this policy by email.

7. Third party websites

1. Our newsletters may include hyperlinks to, and details of, third party websites.

2. We have no control over, and are not responsible for, the privacy policies and practices of third parties.

8. Cookies

1. Our newsletter is sent through a website program that uses cookies (Campaign Monitor).

2. A cookie is a file containing an identifier (a string of letters and numbers) that is sent by a web server to a web browser and is stored by the browser. The identifier is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server.

3. Cookies may be either “persistent” cookies or “session” cookies: a persistent cookie will be stored by a web browser and will remain valid until its set expiry date, unless deleted by the user before the expiry date; a session cookie, on the other hand, will expire at the end of the user session, when the web browser is closed.

4. Cookies do not typically contain any information that personally identifies a user, but personal information that we store about you may be linked to the information stored in and obtained from cookies.

5. You can delete cookies already stored on your computer
